A Strange Story of Captivity

(From the Colorado Tribune)

We saw at the [illegible] a young woman named Lizzie [illegible] Mount [illegible] South Carolina who claims to have been a prisoner among the [illegible] of Indians about [illegible] She is now twenty eight years old and is a [illegible] in the loss of both of her limbs which have been amputated [illegible] the first time at the ankle joints and again [illegible] below the knee Her story of her capture and imprisonment is about as follows [illegible] commencing with how she came to be in the Indian country When five years old her father Thomas Blackburn emigrated from South Carolina and joined the Mormons at Nauvoo Illinois He accompanied them to [illegible] Nebraska and finally emigrated to Utah with the earliest emigrants and [illegible] them In 1863 or 1864 the father having become somewhat dissipated and having for some time been accustomed to living among the Mormon Indians, Lizzie and her mother and two younger sisters aged respectively ten and fourteen years concluded to run away from him and the Mormons and if possible reach California They took with them only what they could pack upon their persons and with a rifle and some ammunition started westward from Salt Lake, wandered for nine months when they were captured by the Digger Indians Lizzie was sold by the Diggers to the Foxes The mother and two remaining sisters when they learned of Lizzie s sale ran away from the Diggers and were pursued When found they had starved and frozen to death and were buried on Horse Creek The Foxes sold Lizzie to the Snakes Then she learned of the death of her mother and sisters and saw them buried She ran away from the Snakes but was recaptured She was badly frozen in the attempt, and afterwards was again frozen She says that two half breeds named Powantinus and Pochantagh took her to Washington, D C where her limbs were amputated and that her father paid the expenses and that she was afterwards returned to the Snakes by his direction he being among them as a kind of chief at the time She says that her father has spent most of his time among the Indians for seven or eight years and is one of them now He is with the Arrapahoes or Cheyennes The Snakes traded her to the Arrapahoes from whom she escaped about a year ago by the assistance of Fred Jones a Government scout, and was brought into Ellsworth At the time of her escape the Arrapahoes were camped at the Big Bend of the Arkansas

A portion of the time since her escape she has been engaged as a scout but for the last few months has been doing housework at a stage station down on the Smoky Hill road Fred Jones, her rescuer was discharged from Government employ last spring just before the outbreak down on the Solomon in Kansas and as he threatened to go with the Indians it was supposed that he was with them at that time She says that she counted one hundred and fifty white men in one Indian camp which she visited while acting in the capacity of scout and that there are a great many among all the tribes The Diggers treated her the most cruelly, and all treated her very roughly Her father though often protected her from very severe treatment She says that she had an uncle living somewhere on the North Platte river and she is now on the way to him She expected to leave this morning

Heavy Litigation —The New York Sun of October [illegible] has the following in reference to the Nicaragua Transit Company vs Vanderbilt

The great litigation which has been pending since 1858 between the Receiver of the Accessory (Nicaragua) Transit Company and Cornelius Vanderbilt, has been brought freshly to the notice of the public by the report of the referee the Hon John T Hoffman, appointed in the case by Judge Ingraham about three years ago The company was incorporated by the Republic of Nicaragua, and owes its active life mainly to Commodore Vanderbilt s energy When he subsequently disposed of his interest in it its affairs rapidly became embarrassed until January 1856 when he was induced to buy up its outstanding bonds amounting to nearly half a million of dollars and make advances to it to meet current expenses To secure him the company gave him a mortgage upon all its property, and elected him President and general agent thus putting all its affairs into his hands Very soon thereafter Walker made his raid seizing the immovable property of the company on the Isthmus and annulling its charter Vanderbilt then removed the steamships of the company out of the way and subsequently disposed of them He also entered into an agreement with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, by which that company paid him a monthly subsidy of $40 000 for three years in consideration of his keeping off the opposition When this subsidy ceased In 1859 Vanderbilt organized another opposition to the Pacific Mail line which he subsequently sold out to them together with the good will of the Pacific trade, and a guarantee to be concerned in no further opposition The pending litigation is to compel Vanderbilt to account for all these vast sums of money amounting in the aggregate to about $3 000 000 The finding of the referee holds Vanderbilt liable only for the value of the steamships—for six of which he had previously accounted—a very small portion of the subsidy, and none of the good will money received from the Pacific Mail Company The amount due the company from Vanderbilt instead of $3 000 000 is fixed only at $185 000, with an offset of $[illegible] 000 for certain payments made by Vanderbilt

The Pacific Islands In the Honolulu Advertiser is printed an interesting letter from Capt Nye of the American bark Wm Rotch who has lately rescued from St Peter s Island nine Japanese who were cast away on that point of land nearly two years since It appears that while on the way from Osaka to Jedo, about two years ago they were dismasted and after drifting about for several months landed on St Peter s Island which is a rocky islet about three thousand miles west of the Hawaiian group in north latitude 30° 3? and east longitude 140° [illegible] The Advertiser commenting upon the fact that no less than six or seven Japanese crews have been cast away on this island during a century says that belief that the Hawaiian Islands were peopled originally from Japan is strengthened hereby and that a study of the races reveals more marks of similarity than were once supposed to exist The theory now is that the Japanese who have always been more venturesome navigators than the Chinese have been driven by storms into the Island groups of the middle Pacific and returning to their own homes eventually have again returned to the islands and settled or they have intermarried with people of the South Sea Islands and these have in turn peopled the Hawaiian group leaving there the peculiarities which are now found to resemble those of the Japanese

Nebraska

We have full official returns [illegible] the [illegible] people voting [illegible] total [illegible] at 18,000 and the Republican majorities for Congressman [illegible] respectively [illegible] 344. This majority is distributed [illegible] all over the State. There are but six Democrats in the Legislature, one in the Senate and five in the House. Two years ago the Republican majority in the State for Governor was but 145. There is a lesson in the action of the Republicans of Nebraska which is worth attention.

Knowing that it is a habit with the Democrats everywhere to avail themselves of illegal votes the Legislature of Nebraska two years ago enacted a stringent registry law. The Republicans were not frightened out of their purpose by the croakings of a few men who are accustomed to pronounce all acts of the kind unconstitutional, and no Supreme Court has been found to declare that the Legislature did wrong. Nebraska has therefore secured the practice of honesty and fairness in her elections, and in every Northern State where these things are secured Democracy has no chance at all.

The Democratic party has everywhere been using the negro question as a weapon but the Republicans of Nebraska effectually destroyed its weight and efficacy in their State by taking a bold stand and giving the blacks the right of suffrage. Probably there are not more than one hundred negro adults in Nebraska but so long as the Democrats could charge the Republicans with a design of giving these few negroes the elective franchise they would have something to rave and howl about. The Republicans by a single stroke put a quietus upon this Democratic agony. The enfranchised blacks, the few there were of them, went quietly to the polls and voted and nobody felt the taint of "nigger equality." It was demonstrated that the danger and odiousness of impartial suffrage was wholly in the apprehension and the Democrats could make nothing more out of that question. Nebraska is consequently one of the States in which the "nigger question" afforded no capital for the Copperheads.

SINGULAR EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY.—The "organ" is highly indignant because we stated that it is soon to be sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy a judgment of several thousand dollars. It says that this trifling incident or episode is no proof at all that it is in a condition of embarrassment or distress. Indeed it would have people infer that the event is only another convincing proof of its extraordinary prosperity. This way of putting the case is so like Beriah! It is quite similar to the arguments he has recently adduced to show that the defeat of his party in the elections has strengthened it and made the triumph of its principles certain. The man who can cipher "Democratic gains" out of the recent election returns ought to find no difficulty at all in showing that the sheriff's advertisement to sell the "organ" on execution at public sale, is additional and undoubted proof of said organ's prosperity. But the world in general does not look on the effect of a sheriff's sale in that light. However those interested in the "organ" may look at the subject in any light they please. We have only stated the fact of the approaching sale as a piece of news. The sheriff's "poster" still remains to stare the "organ's" friends in the face.

SUFFRAGE AS A PROTECTION.—At the recent Democratic meeting in Cooper Institute New York, which declared for General Grant as the choice of that numerous body of Democrats whose attitude during the war is best illustrated by the names of Dickinson and Dix, Judge Pierrepont gave the substance of a conversation held with Gen. Grant about two years ago on the subject of negro suffrage which embodies the average sentiment of the people. Grant said, among other things: "What I want is the Union—the whole country returned to peace and submission to the laws. I do not like universal negro suffrage now but the freedmen ought to be protected, and if the only way to protect them in their helpless condition is to give them the suffrage, then I shall be in favor of letting them vote. I want the Union restored and to have the South come back, obey the laws, and submit as good citizens, and if the future proves that they will not do it without negro suffrage then I would give them negro suffrage."

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of England and Head of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who died last month, was the fifth son of John Langley, Esq., Recorder of Rochester, England. He was born in 1794 and was educated at Oxford. In 1829 he assumed the position of Head Master of Harrow School, which post he retained until 1836, when he was appointed first Bishop of Ripon. On the resignation of Dr. Maltby, in 1856, he was translated to the more important See of Durham, and on Archbishop Musgrave's death in 1860 he succeeded to the Archbishopric of York, the next to the highest position in the Church. Six years ago, on the death of Archbishop Sumner, he attained the pinnacle of ecclesiastical eminence—the Primacy.

INDIAN POLICY.—The New York Independent, after a careful review of the late letter of Gen. Sheridan on Indian affairs, announces a very sensible conclusion. "We shall be entirely satisfied if the sentimentalists who have had so much to say about the wrongs of the noble red man will sustain General Sheridan in the following policy, which the Independent commends: "The thing to do now is the thing recommended by the Generals: to cease making these people rich; to stop the supply of weapons; to punish the leaders of these depredations; to diminish as far as possible their means of distribution and emigration; to insist on their going to the reservations; to compel them to stay there whether they like it or no; and to punish them severely when they [illegible] the settlements of the white men."

GOOD EFFECT.—The Republican triumph has already produced a most excellent effect in the Southern States. The Ku Klux appear to be disbanding and subsiding, and fewer murders are reported than two months ago. Carpet-baggers and scallawags are beginning to be treated with somewhat more of respect than formerly. A. H. Stephens, Gen. Preston and other rebels are already beginning to lay schemes for the political capture of Grant and to praise his magnanimity. We like to see this. It is an evidence of rebel [illegible]. But Grant is not the man to be caught [illegible] [illegible] an enemy. The loyal people of the nation have elected Grant by an immense majority and he declares "I have always respected the will of the people and always shall."

Reported returns from the three counties not given above show that the Democratic majority in the State will be somewhere between [illegible] and [illegible].

The Republican vote in the State is about [illegible]0 larger than in June. The Democratic vote is about 300 less.

Wheat

The agricultural statistician of the London Times reports that the wheat crop of England for the present year is nearly equal to the fine crop of 1864. Notwithstanding this favorable return it will however, be necessary to import 52,000,000 bushels to supply the consumption of the country. This importation is much below that of 1867. The Liverpool wheat market is therefore much depressed compared with last year, when a quarter or eight bushels of wheat sold for 7s 11d. From this price it has declined almost 20s. The potato crop in the British Islands is also unusually good this year. These facts account in no inconsiderable degree for the depression of the price of wheat in American markets.

The Times statistician states that the average yield of wheat per acre in England this year is fully thirty-two bushels. This is certainly a good return. Many of our Middle and Western States boast of the fertility of their soil, and yet the statistics show that their yield of wheat rarely averages more than ten or twelve bushels per acre. In this remark we make an exception of the Pacific States, whose yield rarely if ever falls so low as this average. It is true that the drought sometimes almost destroys crops in California, but in Oregon the harvest never fails. The present year has been an unusually fruitful one here, and many fields of wheat have yielded forty or fifty and in some cases as much as sixty bushels per acre. Of course the average yield through the State will fall much below this, but it is certain that with good farming, that is deep plowing, rotation and fertilizing, the average yield of wheat per acre in Oregon might be made considerably greater than the yield of the present year in England. Vermont is a State whose soil is naturally poor and thin, yet good farming has raised the yield of wheat in Vermont to about thirty bushels per acre, which is considerably more than the average crop of Oregon. The richest soil will be worn out by constantly taking from it and adding nothing in return. This is actually the condition of many of our States. And it has now come to this, that in many cases the best crops are produced in those localities where originally there was least fertility of soil.

A PROBLEM.—The business affairs of the "organ" are not matters of special concern to us, and we spoke of the "inquest" which the sheriff is soon to hold upon its press, type, material, etc., in order to keep our readers informed as to passing events. But as the "organ" gets into such a passion about what we said and makes such a parade of itself before the public, we must ask it a question or two. It says "the mortgage (upon its material) was given to meet the deficiencies of unpaid stock," and then immediately goes into a long statement to show that the concern is in a high state of prosperity and promise. Now if it is in such a prosperous condition and the investment of the stockholders is so good a thing, how does it happen that there are such large "deficiencies upon unpaid stock?" As Beriah has said so much about this matter he owes his few friends a further explanation on this point. Here is a mathematical problem for the genius who could figure up Democratic gains in Vermont last September.

FAILED TO SUPPORT A DEMOCRATIC ORGAN.—In defence of its grabbing, plundering schemes upon the city treasury the Herald says it is paid no higher rates for the city printing than were formerly paid to the OREGONIAN. It is true that the rates are the same, but the Council during the last two years have authorized three times as much printing as was ever done when the OREGONIAN had it. This additional patronage was created expressly to keep the Herald alive, and the tax payers of Portland are now paying three times as much for the printing as it formerly cost them. Two-thirds of this expense is needless except for the purpose of keeping up a Democratic organ in Portland.

GOOD WORDS.—The Methodist, a very able journal published in New York city, said with grand spirit before the election: "What we now need above everything is not to throw away what we won in the war. The war was sad, very sad on some accounts, but its results were an incalculable gain for the nation, for mankind and for the cause of God. If instead of the child's play of giving it all up merely for the sake of peace, our duty is to hold on to it with all the pertinacity with which we fought for it. We must have a government which will enforce the law, a government favorable to the results of the war."

GOOD FOR SOMETHING.—The common tar weed, so troublesome and disgusting in Oregon, is said to have its uses. A California paper says it possesses medicinal properties which are very efficacious in the cure of rheumatism, gout, disease of the kidneys, and is an antidote for poison from poison oak. A tea is made from steeping the leaves and is drank in some cases and used as a bath in others. It is well to know that it is good for something.

SUPERFICIAL CONUNDRUM.—While Seymour was on his recent speech making tour he stopped at Cleveland, and while the crowd was waiting for his appearance some wag perpetrated the following conundrum: "What is the difference between Andy Johnson and Horatio Seymour?" and elicited the reply: "Johnson swung round the circle to the tomb of another man, and Seymour swings around the circle to his own funeral."

GOOD.—A friend writes from Walla Walla: "Democratic stock is very low here just now. I won a $16 pair of boots from a Democrat who was taken prisoner at Vicksburg. I had a brother there who helped to take him and his kind." Bravo!

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—James Ryan, who was arrested for firing a pistol at a [illegible] boy in or on the occasion of the political riot on [illegible] street on the evening before the election, was held [illegible] examination and was held to answer in $[illegible].

Barney Cosgrove was held in $1,[illegible] bonds upon a charge of assaulting James [illegible] with a knife.

Yesterday afternoon an Englishman named D. Young committed suicide at the St. Francis Hotel by swallowing a dose of laudanum.

B. F. McKenna has sued the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for over $30,[illegible] damages for alleged breach of passenger contract.

The Golden City will go into dock after the Col[illegible].

The beautiful building recently erected by the Young Men's Christian Association was formally opened and dedicated last evening in the presence of a large concourse of spectators.

The stock of wheat at present in this city has been carefully estimated at 1,000,000 centals.

The extensive flouring, planing and sawmills located at the outlet of Clear Lake and known as the [illegible] property were destroyed on Sunday morning last by a mob from the upper portion of the lake. The sheriff and his deputies and several [illegible] citizens attempted to defend the property, but were seized by the mob, who then deliberately set fire to the mill and demolished the dam. Very large quantities of wheat and flour and lumber were also destroyed. Application was made to Gov. Haight for troops, but too late to prevent the destruction of property. The mill was one of the largest and best in the State. The alleged cause for the outrage was that the dam caused the overflow of all the lands in the neighborhood of the lake and the owners refused to abate the nuisance.

Dispatch from Nevada

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here this morning at about fifteen minutes past five o'clock. Some say they felt two shocks. Men were awakened from sleep by a violent shaking of their bedsteads, which continued from five to seven seconds. The motion was from east to west. Doors were shaken, windows rattled and articles in rooms moved. Nothing was thrown down.

A man named James Fogarty was discovered under the influence of poison, and a physician being sent for ascertained that he had taken about two ounces of laudanum which he had obtained under pretence of sending it to a friend out of town, and at a later hour he purchased another ounce, about two-thirds of which he had also taken. Fogarty died this afternoon about half past three from the effects of the poison. He had just arrived from Northumberland and had been gambling and drinking all last night. It is believed that the loss of his money impelled him to the act.

Yesterday four bars of bullion, nine hundred and seventy-five fine and valued at 5,375 dollars, arrived from White Pine. Eight bars a day, on an average, valued at about 9,000 dollars, are now being received in this city from the above district, and in a short time it is expected that much larger numbers will be shipped from there. New mills are being projected, one of which is nearly completed. Others will be built next winter. The stages continue to go out crowded and leave passengers behind every trip. There are now three lines of stages between here and White Pine. Our streets were never so lively as now, and every kind of business is good.

To-day the first trip of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s double line to Argenta was made. It is expected that they will shortly put on a double and a half daily between here and the railroad to accommodate the rapidly increasing travel.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

SALEM, Nov. 17.—The official vote of Josephine county has just been received, and is as follows: Seymour 191; Grant 158. Seymour's majority thirty-three.

A New and Beautiful Country

An exploring expedition under John L. McClellan, while prospecting in the vicinity of Saint Mary's Lake, on the eastern base of the Rocky mountains, near the British line, discovered a beautiful region of country, bearing no marks of settlement either by Indians or white men. Captain McClellan and companions traveled up the banks of a large stream for sixty miles when, as they were emerging from a wide valley covered mainly with timber and swamps, they beheld the walls of a rocky canyon rising perpendicularly to a hight of from a hundred to two hundred feet, while half a mile ahead of them the prospectors saw a succession of falls and rapids rising to a hight of a hundred and fifty feet. Desiring to examine more closely the natural beauties of which they had obtained a glimpse, the two men proceeded up the right bank of the river to the foot of the falls. Upon arriving there a scene of wonderful beauty presented itself to their view. The falls were three in number, like stone steps cut in the solid rock, and were respectively twenty-five, thirty-five and forty feet in hight and separated from each other by gentle rapids one hundred yards in length. The width of the upper fall was about fifty feet, of the lower ones seventy-five feet. When standing at the base of the falls they were at a loss to tell where the water came from. They could perceive a snowy conical peak towering above, but far behind the upper fall. Determined if possible to see all the wonders, our explorers climbed to the summit of the falls and there beheld a most beautiful heart-shaped lake about fifteen miles long and from five to ten wide. The lower point was at the falls, the re-entrant angle directly opposite and five miles distant. In the angle last named and up on each side of the lobes of heart, extending a distance of fifteen miles into the mountains, was the snow-capped peak which they saw from below, rising perpendicularly from the water's edge a thousand feet high. On the southern side of the lake was a heavy timbered slope culminating in a high mountain range; on the north side an extensive and beautiful prairie.—W[illegible].

POLLARD AND DAVIS.—The Charleston Mercury, in calling attention to Pollard's proposed life of Jefferson Davis, says:

There never was any people so completely kept in the dark as the people of the Government of the Confederate States were under Mr. Davis' administration. His friends soon came to the conclusion, both in the Provisional and the Regular Congresses of the Confederate States, that the less the people knew of their President the better. Therefore the doors of Congress were closed to publicity, and almost everything that was said or done in Congress was said and done in secret session.

To disclose anything which took place in secret session was punishable by expulsion. The Government was thus practically and totally irresponsible to the people. Although speeches were delivered and measures proposed in Congress which would have commanded the deepest interest with the people, the only thing the people heard or saw was Jefferson Davis—and of course Jefferson Davis in the most imposing and advantageous attitudes. This irresponsibility stimulated a thousand improprieties and lent countenance to grave and fatal follies, both of misstatement and commission, which the press, therefore, to publish from a proper respect to the great cause in which we were engaged.

GUARD AGAINST VULGAR LANGUAGE.—There is as much connection between the words and the thoughts as there is between the thoughts and acts. The latter is not only the expression of the former, but they have a power to react upon the soul, and leave the stain of corruption there. A young man who allows himself to use one vulgar or profane word has not only shown there is a foul spot on his mind, but by the utterance of that word he extends that spot and inflames it, till by indulgence it will pollute and ruin the soul. Be careful of your words as of your thoughts. If you can control the tongue that no improper words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able to control the mind and save it from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts bursting into language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of the most religious man. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of yourself.

A NEW EXCITEMENT IN ENGLAND.—In the lake country in England there is a ruin called [illegible] Castle, once the seat of the Earl of Derwentwater. A lady claiming to be the Countess of Derwentwater has just arrived at this castle with a retinue of servants and a wagon load of chattels, has fitted up temporary quarters among the ruins, and announces her intention to abide there forth in the baronial hall of her ancestors. She is a singular person, attires herself in an Austrian military uniform, wears a sword by her side, and defies the lawyers who have sought to eject her. It happened unfortunately for her pretensions that the dead Earl in whose name this queer Countess claims the property was attainted of treason and beheaded on Tower Hill after the rebellion of 1715, his blood thus legally corrupted, his estates were confiscated and granted by the Crown to the Commissioners of Greenwich Hospital, in whose possession they still remain, and who derive no mean and [illegible] part of their revenue therefrom. Some of the London papers insist that the new Countess is as mad as a March hare, and it will grieve that courteous suit at law will follow. But the Amazonian Countess of Derwentwater insists that there is a method in [illegible] [illegible] taken [illegible] [illegible] of the property in a [illegible] like fashion.

THE GREAT [illegible].—The French Academy of Sciences is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] upon it for the first [illegible] years, [illegible] the famous [illegible] of Warsaw. M. Daubree has obtained for the Academy nine hundred and forty-two pieces of the broken [illegible]. M. Kraute of Bonn gathered sixteen hundred and twelve pieces. Other professors have gathered thousands of pieces, and we are informed that millions yet remain strewed over the section of the country where the bolide broke. The French Academy of Science compute that this globe had a surface of two thousand acres. No wonder the citizens of Warsaw were almost petrified with astonishment when they beheld this immense ball of fire approaching and exploding with a shock and noise the like of which has never been heard or felt on the surface of the earth. At or the globe burst each of the pieces in turn broke up. The first discharge represented a sound that cannot be described; the succeeding explosions resembled the rolling discharge of many regiments of artillery. Where did this immense globe come from? What force directed it against the earth? It never appeared larger than the moon from the time it was first observed till it exploded. Did it explode fifty or five miles above the earth or five hundred? How many questions are sprung by the Warsaw bolide, and how little satisfaction the scientific world can give us on the subject.

MAGNITUDE OF LONDON.—Its houses number more than 350,000, and its streets, if placed in a line, would extend from Liverpool to New York, and are lighted at night by 360,000 gas lamps, consuming every twenty-four hours about 13,000,000 cubic feet of gas. Of the water supply 44,383,428 gallons are used per day. The traveling public sustain [illegible] cabs, and 1,500 omnibuses, besides all the other sorts of vehicles which human needs can require or human wit invent. Its hungry population devour in the course of every year 1,600,000 quarters of wheat, 240,000 bullocks, 1,700,000 sheep, 28,000 calves, 35,000 pigs, 10,000,000 head of game, 3,000,000 salmon and innumerable fish of other sorts, and consume 43,200,000 gallons of beer, 2,000,000 gallons of spirits and 65,000 pipes of wine. As a consequence 2,400 doctors find constant employment. London finally supports 852 churches, which are presided over by 930 divines of greater or less note.—The Nation.

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT.—Democrats have bellowed upon all occasions that the Radicals must have the nigger vote to win. A Nevada paper well says that the elections have just shown that we can give them the Chinamen, Negroes, Indians and all the colors with their few white votes thrown in, and then beat them in the nation by immense majorities.

FAT TAKE.—According to its own statements the "organ" is doing grandly. The only trouble is that the stockholders have got tired of paying assessments and have concluded that it would be a paying investment to let the sheriff sell them out. This seems to be the substance of the organ's lengthy explanation.

GOOD SENSE.—The Richmond (Va.) Dispatch bitterly says that the Southern Democrats have no worse enemies than their professed friends in the North, who, powerless to help them, have encouraged them in fruitless opposition to the Republican party.

ONE TRUE PROPHECY.—Seymour must have the credit of prophesying truly on one occasion. Some time ago he said: "God bless you, but your President I cannot be," or words to convey that meaning. The signs of the times look very much that way now.

CHARITY.—A large class of people professing to be virtuous on many occasions forget that to be charitable to all is the least virtue a person can possess. It is not always by giving money that the power of assisting the afflicted that a person can show the charity. A good advice in [illegible]. [illegible] for instance. Meeting a [illegible] wishes to purchase a common or fine suit of clothes [illegible] [illegible] the Clothing [illegible] is the [illegible] [illegible] toward that [illegible] [illegible] to Kahn & Fabel [illegible] certain that at that house they can purchase at the lowest rates a fine elegant goods and where the most particular will be satisfied.

DIED:

WHEAT IN CALIFORNIA.—The Overland Monthly for November has an excellent article on Wheat in California which gives an interesting account of the grain culture in the early days. [illegible] California was a group of Spanish Catholic missions [illegible] along the coast from the bay of San Francisco [illegible] however we find in [illegible] matters which will [illegible] be interest [illegible]. The following is a table of the wheat and flour exports for each year since 1860 with the total of wheat and flour reduced to tons of wheat

Years	Wheat sacks	Flour barrels	Total Wheat in tons
1858—9	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1859—60	751 [illegible]	[illegible] 426	[illegible] 44
1860—1	[illegible]	[illegible] 181	[illegible]
1861—2	[illegible] 544	[illegible]	[illegible]
1862—3	1 043 8 2	144 683	[illegible]
1863—4	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible] 191
1864—5	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1865—6	[illegible]	[illegible]	1 878 1
1866—7	[illegible] 191	[illegible]	[illegible]
1867—8	[illegible]	[illegible] 159	[illegible]

In 1860-1 the shipment included the crop of two years which accounts for the [illegible] comparative magnitude. The shipments are to Mexico, Central America, China, Alaska, Russia, Asia, British Columbia, Chili, Australia, several cities of South America, the Atlantic States and England. The latter, in the present magnitude of the crops, is depended upon as the chief reliance. We quote from the article:

"In 1860, as stated above, the growth of wheat was confined mainly to the valleys at the bay of San Francisco. Since then it has spread far into the interior. The drought of summer [illegible] no hindrance [illegible], and now a very large proportion of our grain comes from far in the interior. It has gradually crept up on the hills too, and we have found to our surprise the hill lands bear the [illegible] better than the valleys owing partly to their being more exposed to moisture from the sea. It has crossed the Sierra and is raised in some of the valleys on the Eastern Slope.

In such places [illegible] on Owen's river it is found [illegible] to irrigate. And here I may say that irrigation is not resorted to in California unless in exceptional cases such as mentioned above, or in the extreme south counties.

Any county in the State, I believe, raises more or less wheat, those in the extreme south not producing enough for their own consumption owing to the lack of [illegible] greater profit of other crops. But it has been remarked that nearly all we export comes from within a radius of one hundred and twenty miles of San Francisco. This is not owing to superior fertility of soil, but to the wonderful facility of water communication, as will be seen by a glance at the map. The farming population is clustered about the navigable waters, but when railroads shall give equal advantages to the vast tracts of land now isolated from a market, a wonderful future opens before us.

Of the wonderful quick growth of wheat, the article says: Harvesting begins in the interior in June and by September is well advanced [illegible] complete [illegible] the hills next the sea. Wheat varies but little in the time of its ripening whether sown in October, in the [illegible], or in February after the wet season is nearly over. I have seen wheat which I was assured was harvested in ninety days from the date of sowing. It was sown on a [illegible] land by burning off the tules after they were dry, and brushing the seed in the ashes. The moisture so near the surface of the swampy ground sustained the [illegible] growth and the hot sun of July and August [illegible] nature's operations with unwonted speed. The [illegible] was sown on June 2d, and the crop was harvested September 1st."

The grain is so hard that the weevil and other insects are unable to attack it successfully. The red [illegible] Australian is the favorite varieties, both with farmers and millers. Of the yield to the acre it is said: "The yield to the acre in California is [illegible], considering our slovenly methods of farming, [illegible] about twenty bushels to the acre in 1860 [illegible] is nothing uncommon to see sixty and seventy [illegible] to the acre on large fields, and instances are [illegible] of land producing as high as eighty [illegible] eighty four. Cases are on record of even [illegible] But the average yield is constantly increasing [illegible] of following crop after crop. Taking into account exports and home consumption the entire crops of the last three years are thus stated:

Crop of 1866		14,000 000 bushels
1867		14 000 000 "
1868		20 000 000

In 1868, about one tenth of the yield of the whole [illegible]

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship John L. Stephens will sail this morning for San Francisco with the following passengers: Capt J C Ainsworth, S G [illegible] and wife, Capt A H Dickerson, U S A, J R Eschenburg, [illegible], James Kirk, H McLaughlin, P Dodd, Mrs [illegible] and child, D Conkleman, J J McDaniel, C [illegible], John M Garin, Jno McKay, Mrs [illegible] and child, Thos J Pomidin, D Simon, J Lippitt, [illegible] Farnham, J Davis, J S Russell, F F Hall, [illegible], Mrs Alexander and four children, James McKay, Jas Martin, C L Hansen, Rufus [illegible], L R Martin and wife, Mrs T J Holmes, A [illegible] and 2 children, P McGovern, J McGov[illegible], L Tingley, L Bowlon, Miss A Miller, [illegible], Mrs Jane Honeyman and child, F McGee, Robinson, L B Franz, F Davis and wife, O [illegible], P H Mahony, Frank Leighton, A C Morse, [illegible], P Van Fridagh, H H Porter, Mrs Perry, J [illegible] Beecher, J L Butler, wife, child and servant, J Jenkins, E D Pomeroy, wife and child, A [illegible], Jacob Karmer, R Davis, C White, E Thorn, [illegible] Co's messenger and 73 in steerage

[illegible].—A gentleman of this city of a practical [illegible] mind, furnishes the following suggestions as [illegible] of small pox. Let the city employ sufficient [illegible] to visit every home in one week and [illegible] all the inmates, for twenty-five cents apiece, [illegible] they are too poor, or for other reasons, refuse [illegible] vaccinate for nothing. Let this be done by [illegible] pure vaccine, and passing it through healthy [illegible] very few would object to being operated upon [illegible] call at the right time and see it each [illegible] district has well taken, and if not, vaccinate [illegible]. What would be collected in this way would [illegible] pay the physicians, and if not, it would be much [illegible] caring for small pox patients and burying [illegible] would save the city from charges of cruelty [illegible] are always rife in cases of small pox. [illegible] It would save the citizens a vast amount of [illegible] and then the country trade, and the rush of [illegible] would not be stopped, and, above all, many [illegible] be saved."

COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following proceedings had in the Circuit Court yesterday:

[illegible] Jury presented true bills of indictment as [illegible]

State of Oregon vs E D Hutchins, indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon, Cyrus A Dolph for defendant.

State of Oregon vs Thomas Hamilton, indicted for [illegible], M. F. Mulkey for defendant.

State of Oregon vs Polly Becket; indicted for polygamy; J. H. Mitchell for defendant.

State of Oregon vs John Orchard, indicted for grand [illegible], J. F. Caples for defendant.

[illegible] vs Wilson and Gibson, action for malicious [illegible]; damages laid at $30 000, all day Monday and [illegible] in hearing testimony, Cronin and Caples [illegible], Strong, Page and Mitchell for defendants.

[illegible] and Thomas Healy were admitted to [illegible]

CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.—The following were [illegible] dings in this Court, yesterday:

United States vs Wm Leffner et al, indictment for robbing the U S Mail, demurrer to indictment [illegible], and defendants had leave to file a motion to [illegible] the same, which was denied; whereupon a plea [illegible] guilty was entered, and proceeded to empanel a [illegible]. The following jurors were chose and sworn: A O [illegible], T. A. Tinge, [illegible] Topper, E W Fine, M B [illegible], J Ladd, A H Johnson, Chas Wiberg, Jas [illegible], O. Risley, Oscar Kilbourn and Wm Currier. The jury was sworn and dismissed for the day. A [illegible] Johns [illegible] was excused from serving.

[illegible] Whecarver at [illegible], petit Jurors were discharged from further attendance.

THE HAND ORGAN PARADE.—Messrs. Kallich and De[illegible] are preparing for their grand hand organ tour next [illegible]. They are likely to get up some excitement [illegible]. It is advertised this morning that a Republican and a Democrat have made a large bet on th[illegible], the former betting that Mr. Delano will collect more money from Republicans than from Democrats; the [illegible] taking the opposite chance. It is proposed to place [illegible] sum may be taken in the hands of responsible [illegible] to be appropriated to the relief of the poor of [illegible] city during the coming winter. This disposition of [illegible] cannot fail to meet the unequivocal approbation of people of all classes, and we shall look to see [illegible] liberal donations [illegible] Republicans, inasmuch as [illegible] is made of their party pride of liberality, look [illegible] their laurels.

FROM THE COUNTRY.—The last two or three days of [illegible], dry weather, has enabled people from the country [illegible] visit the city on marketing and shopping expeditions [illegible] and they have improved the opportunity, in [illegible] numbers. The streets yesterday especially, were [illegible] of country teams and the retail stores seemed to have [illegible] unusual run of customers.

WASHINGTON GUARD'S BALL.—We have received from [illegible] Sagers, complimentary tickets to the Washington Guard's ball to be held on the 1st December. We have no hesitation in recommending all our friends to attend [illegible], for the Guard [illegible] yet failed to have everything in good shape and to make things pleasant for their guests.

NOT THE MAN.—In the report of U S District Court [illegible] Kings, published yesterday morning, the name of "A. Myers" occurs in connection with an indictment for violation of the U S Revenue laws. It is hardly [illegible] to say that Mr. A. Myers of this city is not the man. The name should have been printed A. Myres.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—Mrs. H. Clarke, Secretary of the [illegible] Childrens' Aid Society, writes: "The ladies of the [illegible] Aid Society desire to acknowledge the receipt of two hundred dollars in currency donated to the Society by Rev J H Wilbur and two hundred dollars in coin, donated by Senator Corbett."

REPORTED ROBBERY.—We learn that a man just down from the upper country brings a report that Mr. W. C. Kalt and son, formerly of this city, were met by road agents two or three days ago, on the road above La Grande, and robbed of over five thousand dollars. We have no particulars.

THE STEAMER RANGER brought up from Monticello last evening 21 passengers, 12 bales hay, 10 000 feet cedar lumber and 450 sacks onions, besides a lot of chickens, turkeys, eggs, butter, potatoes, apples, trout, venison, beef meat, etc.

YOUNG CATTLE.—A large drove of young cattle were driven into the city last evening, destined for the upper [illegible]. They were from Yamhill county and were [illegible] for Mr. O'Conner.

[illegible].—We are happy to announce that the [illegible] which was so well received last Saturday evening, will be presented again at Oro Fino Theater to-night. The company have presented nothing [illegible] which they appear to better advantage than in this. Mr. and Mrs. Bates, Mayer, Fuller, etc., have [illegible] to make it a [illegible] Do not fail to see it.

M. E. CHURCH.—The ladies of the M. E. Church will meet at the [illegible] o'clock this day for the purpose of [illegible] approaching Fair. A full attendance [illegible]. By order of the Committee.

[illegible].—[illegible] become [illegible] every twenty four hours [illegible]. It literally renders the [illegible]

MANY years ago the writer of this notice and an invalid physician while visiting the island of St. Croix for their health experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum then produced upon many of the invalids who were like ourselves seeking health, and upon inquiry and investigation obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted with [illegible] and determined to undertake the sale of a Tonic and Restorative Medicine [illegible] It was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity. For the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world, being an article of real merit founded on new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, which [illegible] revolution in the history of medicine.

NIGHT SCHOOL.—Mr. Fitzgerald has opened a Night School in the school-house (up stairs) near the Catholic Church. Terms for Reading, Writing, Arithmetic and English Grammar $2 [illegible] per month. For Book-keeping, Geometry and Algebra $[illegible] per month. School opens at 7, [illegible] P. M. and closes at [illegible] P. M.

THE NEXT QUARTER OF THE PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY will begin Nov 23d, 1868. Prof Sodlak has charge of Instrumental Music. Mrs. S. J. Rumsey teaches Oil Painting and a beautiful style of Crayoning. Persons not otherwise connected with the school can receive instruction at the Academy in Music and Painting. Whatthe Illustrious Abernethy said.—

Well sir what is the matter [illegible] said Abernethy the great English surgeon [illegible] patient who had called for [illegible] Oh nothing [illegible] was the reply [illegible] that's all." "Do you call that nothing serious?" said Abernethy, "I tell you, sir, that when these two organs are out of order as you call it, there's not a square inch of the body that is not more or less diseased nor a drop of blood in it that is in a healthful condition." Nothing can be more true, therefore it is of the very highest importance to keep the stomach and liver in a vigorous condition. If the one is weak and the other irregular in its action, tone and control them with HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, the most genial vegetable Restorative and Alterative that has ever been administered as a cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Disease. It is recommended by distinguished surgeons and physicians of the United States Army, by officers of the Army and Navy, by our first authors, by eminent clergymen—in fact by thousands of the most intelligent of every class, as an unequalled protective against epidemic and malarious diseases, and as a perfectly innocuous, but at the same time powerful invigorant and alterative.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which [illegible]. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who try counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can be discovered only after a trial, but only aids to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice.

CELEBRATED
SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON:

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, a medicinal Diet Drink of eminently salutary qualities manufactured by myself, exclusively at my factory at Schiedam in Holland.

In Gravel, Gout and Rheumatism, in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, its efforts are prompt, decided and invariably reliable.

It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over 3,000 letters from physicians, endorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced on the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons are peculiarly liable—the

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS

Will be found absolutely infallible while in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

Are you WEAK, DEBILITATED, NERVOUS? Is your sleep disturbed? Do you have palpitation of the heart or an inclination to melancholy? Diseases of such nature require a prompt DIURETIC, which will be found in Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

September Term, 1868

In the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon, September term 1868. James Heatherly and Mary J Heatherly appellants vs Henry G Hadley and Henry [illegible] respondents.

This is a suit [illegible] decree upon the pleadings [illegible] was granted and the plaintiffs appeal.

[illegible] James Heatherly was indebted to [illegible] persons in the aggregate [illegible] upon promissory notes [illegible] one or both of them were sureties on the notes. Plaintiffs who were husband and wife, to secure defendants mortgaged [illegible] of the value of $2[illegible] and assigned to them a certain note of $[illegible]. Plaintiffs and defendants at the time of executing the mortgage made a written agreement that plaintiffs might sell parcels of the land at stipulated prices and apply the proceeds to pay the debts. The complaint proceeds: And plaintiff alleges that it was further agreed in said agreement that the defendants would forbear foreclosing said mortgage for space of one year from date of said agreement, which by mistake was omitted to be inserted in said original written agreement.

Defendants within the year commenced their foreclosure suit and obtained a decree for $2[illegible] and interest thereon at 10 per cent per annum and for a sale of the mortgaged premises and afterwards plaintiffs became purchasers. The complaint alleges that plaintiff did not owe defendants more than $2[illegible]94, that plaintiffs were not served with summons in the foreclosure suit and had no notice thereof, and that the sheriff did not give due notice of sale.

The complaint and answer each purport to set out the items of debit and credit, showing what was the state of the accounts between the parties.

The answer denies the material allegations of the complaint except the defendants being sureties, of the mortgage and written agreement and the foreclosing of the mortgage, avers that Heatherly's indebtedness to them exceeded $4 000, and proceeds to say, that the decree of foreclosure "may have included erroneously either the $415, charged as paid on the Cumming's mortgage or the $430 paid on Humphrey and Cooper debts or it may have properly included the Rosenblatt debt. (The pleadings show that the Rosenblatt debt of $500 was in judgment in favor of defendant Hadley, against these plaintiffs, rendered in the County Court before the foreclosure suit.)

The answer alleges that Heatherly and wife were duly served with summons and complaint by the sheriff of the county, as appears by the return, setting it out as follows:

"I hereby certify that I have this 14th day of October, 1863 served the above summons by leaving a certified copy thereof, with a copy of the affidavit and complaint, prepared by the plaintiff's attorneys, in the hands of Mary J Heatherly, wife of the defendant, James Heatherly, she being a white person above 14 years of age) at his usual place of abode in Lane county, Oregon.

T J BRATTAIN, Sheriff."

The summons was directed to both defendants. The answer alleges that James Heatherly knew of the judgment of foreclosure a short time after the confirmation of the sale.

The answer then, apparently with some purpose of showing former adjudications, in bar of this suit, says, "That all the matters and things in this suit alleged * * * have been substantially and fully and finally adjudicated in former suits and proceedings, in courts having full and competent jurisdiction thereof, between these parties, which said former suits and proceedings said defendants now and here plead in bar to this suit, to wit: A suit in equity determined in the Circuit Court of Lane county, April term, 1865," and proceeds to name other suits in a similar manner. The pleader then, in the body of the answer, proceeds to give notice that on the trial of this suit, if any there shall be, they will give in evidence the court records and papers in said suits and proceedings the answer of Norris Humphrey on writ of attachment relating to the Watt note and the records and papers in the original foreclosure suit, with such other records and other proofs as may be deemed necessary to maintain the defence."

The replication denies the several allegations of new matter contained in the answer. The denial of the sheriff's return of service being that plaintiff has not sufficient knowledge or information to form a belief.

Upton, Judge, delivered the opinion of the court.

The various points presented in this case may be resolved into three questions:

First. Does the complaint if taken as true, entitle the plaintiffs to equitable relief.

Second. Does the new matter set up in the answer, if taken as true, present a complete defence.

Third. Do the denials presented in the answer or replication present issues requiring evidence in order to a proper determination of the case.

A court will upon motion render a judgment or decree for the defendant on the pleadings where the complaint fails to allege sufficient facts, or where the answer states facts showing a complete defence and these facts are not denied in the replication.

The complaint if taken as true shows an unsettled account between the parties, and the defendants claiming the plaintiffs' property under an alleged [illegible] against the plaintiffs in a suit in which they had not been served with process, and which was commenced before the cause of suit or the right to sue originated, the decree being for a [illegible] was just.

It needs no argument to show that the complaint is sufficient, if taken as true, to entitle the plaintiffs to relief.

If the denials of the allegations of the complaint the [illegible] must be determined upon evidence, and such [illegible], be they ever so full, afford no ground for a [illegible] upon the pleadings. If the [illegible] the case [illegible] tried and the case must be determined upon proofs.

If, however, there is new matter constituting a perfect defence set up in the answer and not denied by the replication, in that case the decree of the Circuit Court was proper. It is therefore important to consider what new matter in avoidance is set up by the answer.

The first part of the answer that can be looked upon as a statement of new matter relates to the situation of the accounts between the parties at the rendition of the decree. But that part of the answer contains a virtual admission that the decree was taken for too great an amount. Each matter of fact proper to be pleaded should be stated in a direct manner, so that issue may be taken upon it by direct denial of the matters alleged. It is not sufficient to state a series of alternatives and allege that some one of them is true; much less, that one of them may be true, or may have happened. Facts should be stated without argument or reasoning in reference to them or their effect. This part of the answer is not only defective in naming several different items and alleging that one of them may have been included in the decree without asserting that any particular one was so included. But the admission that the decree "may have included" a particular demand or sum of money that was not owing, does away with all advantage it was possible for the pleader to derive from allegations relating to that subject, upon the principle that the allegations of a pleading are construed more strongly against the pleader.

It is not always the case that a court of equity will open a judgment or decree where the proceedings have failed to conform to the rules of law. It is usually required of the party attacking a decree that he show that it is for too great an amount or in some other manner is inequitable, and that a trial of the cause will place him in a better position. In other words he must not only show that his legal rights have been disregarded, but he must show himself entitled in equity to the relief demanded. The admissions of this part of the answer are a virtual confession of merits in this plaintiffs suit provided his legal rights were invaded or disregarded in obtaining the decree of foreclosure.

The next statement in the nature of new matter is the reference to former adjudications. The answer contains no sufficient pleading of a former suit or action, and it is in no way aided by the notice there set out, both because the substance of the notice if stated in proper form would be wholly insufficient, and because nothing in our system of pleading [illegible] of such a notice in the answer. Neither the matter pleaded nor the notice present an issuable fact in regard to a former suit.

The plaintiff is not called upon to deny the defendants intention to give in evidence, the court records and papers in said suits and proceedings. It is equally erroneous to call on the plaintiff to admit or deny the conclusion that all the matters and things in this suit alleged have been substantially and fully and finally adjudicated in former suits and proceedings, or in a suit in equity determined in the Circuit Court of Lane county at April term, 186[illegible], between the same parties.

In pleading a former suit or action in bar, it is necessary to state facts showing what was the matter determined in the former suit. [illegible] vs Talmage 14, John 501; Fowler vs Hart 10, John 111.

Before the Court will draw a conclusion that all the matters and things in this suit alleged have been adjudicated in a former suit, it must be informed what was the subject matter of the former suit. It is necessary that the pleadings contain such allegations of fact as to advise the Court what were the issues determined or the matters adjudged in the former suit. To state simply that they are the same that are presented in this suit is the statement of a conclusion. If the replication had been silent in regard to former suits there is not sufficient in this part of the answer to have justified granting the motion for a decree upon the pleadings.

The allegations in regard to service of summons and in regard to a confirmation of sale, although the former meets an allegation of the complaint may be treated as new matter. If the defendant in the former suit was duly served with process and failed to object to the confirmation, the sale it may be [illegible] the order of confirmation should not be disturbed. The sufficiency of the confirmation as well as that of the decree under which the sale was made depends on the sufficiency of the service.

The complaint alleges that plaintiffs were not served with process. Had the answer simply taken issue upon that proposition it would have rendered a judgment on the pleadings improper. But the defendant goes further and alleges the [illegible] of service by setting out the sheriff's return in haec verba. The replication professes to [illegible] the return by denying plaintiff's want of knowledge. There is reason for the position that when one can obtain information by inspecting the records and things which are within [illegible] a denial should be treated as sham and the court will treat the case as if the sheriff's return was not denied. In this case the pleadings [illegible] with all presumptions of law by presenting the facts upon which depends the question of jurisdiction of the person.

The law in force in 1863 required service of summons to be made by delivering a copy thereof together with a copy of the complaint prepared and certified by the plaintiff, his agent or attorney [illegible] to the defendant personally, or if he be not found, to some white person of the family, above the age of fourteen years, at the dwelling house or usual place of abode of the defendant." The grounds of objection to the service are the following:

1st. It is claimed to be a good service on both Heatherly and his wife, although only one copy of summons or complaint was delivered.

2d. It was not served personally on Mr Heatherly and it does not appear affirmatively that he was not found.

3d. It does not appear that the copy of the complaint was certified by any one.

In regard to the first objection, it may be said that no more was done than was necessary to obtain service on the wife, and there is reason to doubt whether it is a compliance with the spirit and intent of the statute which seems to contemplate that a white person of the family over fourteen years of age will exercise a discretion and notify a person stopping at the same house when a copy is left for such person. If Mrs Heatherly was informed that the proceeding was intended as a service upon the husband, as well as upon herself and that fact could be, in any proper way, made to appear, the objection would have less weight. But a decision of that point is not indispensable in this case.

To the second objection it is answered, and the court thinks with reason that the plaintiff cannot raise the question, for his complaint shows affirmatively that at the time of the alleged service he was not in the state and of necessity he was not to be found in the county.

On the third point it is to be observed that the defendant is presumed to state his case as favorably to himself as the facts will warrant and he has not shown a strict compliance with the law. He was apprised by the complaint that want of service was a point relied upon by the plaintiff. If the copy was actually certified by the plaintiff his agent or attorney the presumption is that the answer which professes to set out the mode of service would have so stated.

Whether a judgment or decree in a case where the defendant was served with a true copy of summons and complaint, would be defective on the sole ground that the copies were not certified, it is not necessary here to decide. In this case there is reason, on the face of the return, to doubt whether either the sheriff, or Mrs. Heatherly, at the time the service was made, considered the proceeding a service on Mr Heatherly. There is nothing in the case to show that he had any personal knowledge of the proceeding, until after the decree was rendered. Service by leaving a copy at the dwelling house, although good if made in strict pursuance of the statute is not of a character to induce a court of equity to indulge implications or inferences in its favor, even if the court had the power to do so. Under the circumstances of this case, the court is of the opinion that the want of a certificate is such a failure to comply with the law as to render the service invalid as to the husband.

In this case it should not be overlooked that had the service been perfect on both defendants there are issues of fraud and mistake which if found in favor of the plaintiffs upon a trial, would have justified the opening of the decree in the foreclosure suits.—Bruen v Hone 2, Barb 586; Higgins v King 3 ib, 616.

The case made by the pleadings presented issues of fact which the Circuit Court should have proceeded to try, and the court erred in sustaining the defendant's motion for a decree upon the pleadings.

The decree of the Circuit Court should be reversed.

* Money Order Offices

The Post Office at Portland, Oregon, is a depository for mail bags, locks and keys.

Mr Zachariah Wilson, Portland, Oregon, writes:

"It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced—its curing me of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago, of long standing entitles Dr Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Ear-ache, Distressing Pains etc."

John English of Howell Prairie, Marion county, Oregon writes:

"I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and extremities accompanied with a severe cough for two months so that I had to use crutches, meanwhile trying all remedies in common use. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief and I was able to walk in four days without crutches. I have not felt any rheumatism since. I have seen your family medicines used with excellent success. I have no hesitancy in saying it is the best preparation for family use ever tried for those complaints. I am now on my way to South America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I must now have two dozens Balsam and two dozens of your Magic Oil, dollar bottles, as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon, and I would not be without them in my house, and when this package of medicine is exhausted I will send to your office in Portland for a fresh supply. CHANGE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Scully have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

Native California Wine

BITTERS

We subjoin the following affidavit in an injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Scully, plaintiffs, and P A Sainsevain, defendant.

P Sainsevain being duly sworn says: That the article known as Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Scully about the month of March 1861 with all the said Sainsevain Bitters having any concern in the manufacture thereof. The deponent has always known and considered said Mercado & Scully as the Sole Proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters."

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a compound under the name of Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1860, and also affixing a nearly similar label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BE NOT DECEIVED! Send for

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,

And you will obtain the same popular beverage so favorably known since 1860. Beware of Counterfeits! Purchasers of our Wine Bitters are requested to observe the familiar old yellow label and see that the words MERCADO & SCULLY, SAN FRANCISCO are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork of each bottle. This is the only effectual security against the counterfeit imitations.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATION, GRANULATED EYELIDS, &c, as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought to the public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE SIX NINE FIFTEEN and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

K B MOORE
A L WALLACE,
Mrs MONTGOMERY
W D PORTER
NATHANIEL BELL
G R WARD,
JOHN M HOLLOWAY
ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they endure until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoe makers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten, are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patient's letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
